REPORT.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Nebraska:

As required by law, we herewith transmit our second biennial report pertaining to the general management and expenditures of the Prison, from November 30th, 1871, to November 30th, 1873.

THE PRISON.

We have striven not to organize and conduct the affairs of the Prison, that by proper legislative encouragement, improving and reforming results upon the convict would be secured.

To the Commutation Law and its results, we can speak in the most flattering terms. The prisoner is soon interested to know that there is but one law, enacted for his benefit, he must exhibit an improvement at present. It is the simplest idea of reward that can be offered to a prisoner.

The ordinary punishments of the Prison are: The wearing of stripes, hard labor during the day, confinement when not working or making or attending the usual religious exercises. If the convict transcends the rules of discipline laid down for the government of the Prison, he makes himself amenable to special penalties. He may be confined in a dark cell, on bread and water. A charge of misconduct is recorded against him, for which he loses his good time. He may, in aggravated cases, be compelled to wear the ball and chain.

Inventories to good conduct are: Diminution of sentence, kindness, and appeals to manhood and benevolence.

The food of the convict is plain, but of good quality and wholesome. A good supply of vegetables are grown annually on the Prison grounds, of which the convicts get a very liberal supply. Their sanitary condition has consequently been good.

During the past year, both instrumental and vocal music, together with an evening school and Bible class, have been introduced and established in the Prison, in all of which the prisoners take a very lively interest, and are very much improved thereby.

The department of the new Prison is now occupied by the officers and prisoners, which adds very much to the convenience of the officers and safety of the convicts.

The new buildings, so far as they have been constructed, are of first-class material and workmanship, and will be found to be a valuable addition to the State and contractors.

The funds received from the sale of lands will not be sufficient to complete all the buildings under contract. We therefore respectfully ask your honorable body to make such provisions as will enable us to prosecute the work to completion.

The management of the business affairs of the Prison, during the past year, has been attended with a good deal of embarrassment growing out of the fact that the last Legislature failed to make sufficient appropriations to meet the necessary expenditures.

The following is an estimate of appropriations necessary to meet the current expenses of the Prison for the years 1873 and 1874:

Warden's Salary	$ 1,000
Deputy Warden's Salary	1,000
Prison Physician	1,000
Prison Chaplain	600
Guard Duty	4,000
Fuel and Lights	4,000
Bread and Vegetables	1,000

[illegible]

His Excellency, the Governor, has the power to pardon a criminal before the expiration of his sentence. This clemency is frequently exercised through petitions signed by influential men or parties pleading mitigating circumstances. Prisoners are recommended for pardon by the Board of Inspectors and the Warden, in consideration of their good behavior while under sentence. This is well as far as it goes; still, as an incentive to well doing on the part of the convicts, our preference would be a commutation of sentence, or some time, rather than a direct pardon. A bill to this effect is earnestly recommended.

We append to this Report a complete statement of lands sold, [illegible] and for what amount. Also a statement of expenditures, [illegible] and for what purpose.

The reports of the Warden, Physician, and Chaplain, are transmitted with this report. The Warden's report gives in detail the [illegible] transactions, and an estimate of receipts and expenditures [illegible] two years.

In conclusion, it is our duty to return our heartfelt thanks to Warden H. [illegible] and his Deputy Warden, Mr. I. A. Harper, for the able and impartial manner in which they have performed their very difficult duties, and the kind and courteous manner in which all have been treated. To Dr. A. Patterson, Prison Physician, and Rev. H. C. Talbert, Chaplain, and Journals, our thanks are due for their constant attention to duty.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

FOR THE YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER 30th, 1871.

OFFICE OF THE WARDEN,
NEBRASKA STATE PRISON,
LINCOLN, December 1st, 1871.

To the Honorable Board of Inspectors of Nebraska State Prison:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to submit the second Annual Report of the affairs of this Institution, for the year ending November 30th.

At the date of the last Annual Report, the

Number of convicts in the Prison was		28
Have since been received		38—66
Pardoned	14
Discharged on expiration of sentence	4
Recommended for new trial	1
Escaped	11	30
Remaining in Prison		36

The following which I copy from the first annual Report of this Prison, I think explains

"I would call to your minds the governors' good time law, which has been adopted by some of the states with satisfactory result. I believe some plan to be adopted as to the number of hours per day each convict should labor. He has a strong motive to labor well, if ten hours' labor per day. Your honorable body cannot but see that this mode of sentence is defective."

Since my connection with the Institution [illegible] the behavior of the convicts has been unusually good. No convict has refused to labor, and I observe that there is an increasing disposition on the part of the convicts to spend the evening hours, after work, in reading and study. There has been but little punishment, and no punishment except what has been caused by want of proper accommodations to keep the convicts in separate apartments.

It is impossible to enforce and maintain a proper standard of discipline where a large number of men are confined in one room, or to prevent unnecessary intercourse and evil.

Experience in prison discipline [illegible] England and in this country, has clearly established that the solitary and silent system is best. It gives complete control over the convict, maintains perfect order, and [illegible] It gives the convict time for reflection, and is favorable to his reformation, [illegible] the best good of the convict [illegible]

The temporary building is in the worst [illegible] for the purposes to which it is applied. It [illegible] We are compelled to use [illegible] for eating, sleeping, and hospital purposes.

The cells in the main building occupy a portion of the same apartment, which is entirely inadequate for the present and prospective needs of the Prison.

The number of convicts will soon be augmented, as several prisoners already sentenced will shortly be here.

One female convict is [illegible] in the county jail, till suitable place is provided for her at the Prison, which can not be until the new building is finished. It is hoped that the contractors will be able to complete it this winter.

Convicts will be able to work a greater number of hours when moved into the new building, and the temporary building can be used for a workshop.

The amount of convict cloth and clothing materials on hand when I assumed charge of this Prison was very limited. The convicts were destitute of proper clothing for labor out of doors and the stock of provisions and supplies was almost exhausted.

As winter was approaching, and the majority of the convicts were employed on stone work and rough labor, the purchase of a large amount of clothing and material for clothing, besides provisions and other supplies, has been necessitated during the past two months.

Nearly all of the clothing is manufactured within the Prison by convict labor.

A number of convicts whose health unfitted them for contract labor, have been employed in building a stable, rebuilding the cellar, and repairing the superstructure, all of which has been done without expense to the State.

My efforts to secure a degree of discipline that shall be creditable to the Institution have been ably seconded and assisted by Mr. Lewis, the Deputy Warden, who is an efficient, prudent, and vigilant officer.

The Guards and other officers have also performed the services of their respective departments with zeal and fidelity to the interests of the State.

For the statistics contained in this Prison I would respectfully refer your body to the Physician's Report.

HENRY P. CAMPBELL,

Warden.

WARDEN'S REPORT

FOR THE YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER 30th, 1872.

OFFICE OF THE WARDEN,
NEBRASKA STATE PRISON,
LINCOLN, DEC. 1, 1872.

To the Honorable Board of Inspectors of Nebraska State Prison:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to submit the third Annual Report of the affairs of this Institution.

At the date of the last annual Report, the

Number of convicts in the Prison was		25
Received from the Courts		36
Escaped convict recaptured		1
Total		58
Pardoned by the Governor	14
Released on commutation	3
Escaped	11
Died	19
Remaining in Prison		40

I again respectfully call your attention to the prisoners' good time law or commutation act enacted March 9th, 1871, and recommend that it be amended so as to allow a deduction of two months for each year for the first two or three years, instead of one month, as the law now is.

I also recommend that the Governor be authorized to offer a reward for the arrest and return of escaped convicts in addition to the amount which the law now authorizes.

The conduct of the convicts has been unusually good. There is much interest taken by them in the evening school and Bible class.

Several who were unable to read or write when first confined in the Institution have acquired a fair knowledge of reading, writing and mathematics.

I have been ably assisted in fulfilling my duties as Warden by Mr. L. A. Harmon, Deputy Warden, who has filled his position very efficiently.

The Steward and other officers have also faithfully performed the duties of their respective departments.

I feel under obligations to His Excellency Hon. Wm. H. James, as well as to your Honorable body, for the many kindnesses extended to me during the past year.

For the sanitary condition of the Prison I respectfully refer your Honorable body to the Physician's Report. I earnestly recommend that the salary of the Physician be increased to at least one thousand Eleven dollars per annum.

There are upwards of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) of unpaid accounts for the past year, for which there is no appropriation. For the year 1871 there will be needed for the expenses of the Prison at least Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000). In addition to the above amount, there will be needed a small sum probably Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000) for fitting up the new building which we now occupy. The expenses for 1871 will, in my estimation, exceed Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000). It is impossible to state accurately, as the increase in the number of convicts is uncertain. Since September, 1870, the population of the Prison has nearly doubled, judging from which it would, I think, be safe to estimate the number of convicts for the year 1871 at 50, and for the year 1872 at 60.

Respectfully,

HENRY C. CAMPBELL,

Warden.

REPORT OF PHYSICIAN.

LINCOLN, NEB., Dec. 1, 1872.

To the Inspectors of the Nebraska State Prison:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to report that the general health of the prisoners is better, and has been during the fall and winter, than at any former period. With this exception, there has been the usual amount of sickness, the character of complaints being similar to preceding years. A large proportion, as usual, were venereal, and, although there were quite a number of serious cases, they were not of a character to call for special mention, or justify a tabulated statement. It affords me a great deal of pleasure to be able to report, at the end of the third year, that there has never been a death among the prisoners.

Sometimes the utmost vigilance of the Prison Physician is necessary in order to circumvent the cunning of malingerers. They resort to the most ingenious expedients to deceive the Physician, in order to be reported on the sick list and excused from duty, or assist their friends in the same confidence game. I think, by the watchfulness and cooperation of the Warden and Deputy Warden, that kind of enterprise have been pretty effectually suppressed.

I have no suggestions to make. Every reasonable provision has been made for the care of the sick or the improvement of the sanitary condition of the Institution, by the Prison authorities, as occasions presented themselves. Where arrangements are only temporary, much depends on the prompt action of those in immediate authority, as emergencies occur.

The present healthy condition of the prisoners is due, in a great measure, to the quality and kind of food provided. The garden belonging to the Prison supplied an abundance of vegetables during the past season, which contributed largely to the prisoners' daily rations. It is an excellent plan in a sanitary view, as well as an economical arrangement.

I desire to express my thanks to your Honorable body, and to the Warden and Deputy Warden for kindness and courtesies shown me.

Your obedient servant,

ARTHUR PATTERSON,

Prison Physician.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA,
Nov. 30th, 1872.

To Messrs. Abbey, Arnold, and Templin, Inspectors State Prison:

GENTLEMEN. I have officiated regularly at the Prison during the year, having missed my appointment but twice during the time.

The humane and efficient management of the Institution has greatly facilitated my efforts in behalf of the prisoners, whose moral and religious condition is certainly all that could be desired.

The books on hand, appropriated to the purpose, have been supplemented by books for their use, and each convict is furnished with a variety of religious newspaper once a week.

I cannot allow this opportunity to pass without putting on record my conscientious conviction that the seven young Indians sent for murder from [illegible] county should be immediately recommended to the clemency of the Executive of the State. The Superintendent of Indian Affairs, Barnes White, after making diligent examination, has assured me that, in his opinion, the ends of justice and morality have been fully satisfied in their case, and that their release would have a marked effect for good on the tribe to which they belong.

One of these Indians is a consumptive, pining away daily, and must certainly die, unless released from confinement.

I remain, gentlemen,

Yours very respectfully,

R. C. TALBOTT,

Chaplain State Prison.
